LAWS TO PROTECT INDIAN INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

LEARN ABOUT THE INDIAN ARTS AND CRAFTS ACT OF 1990 AND OTHER LAWS

- The Indian Arts and Crafts Board was created by Congress to promote the economic development of American Indians and Alaska Natives through the expansion of the Indian arts and crafts market.
- The Indian Arts and Crafts Board is a federal agency dedicated to the promotion and protection of authentic Indian art and craft work.
- The annual value of the Indian art and craft market is estimated at over $1.5 billion.
- The Indian Arts and Crafts Act is a truth in marketing law for art and craft work sold as Indian made.
- The Indian Arts and Crafts Act's civil provisions empower Indian tribes, arts and crafts marketing organizations, and individual artists to act on their own behalf.
- Speakers representing:
  - Indian Arts and Crafts Board
  - U.S. Patent and Trademark Office
